Hearing and Doing the Word Context 1. With these words, Jesus concludes the Sermon on the Mount. 2. A context for these words might be found in Ezekiel 13 where the issue of false hope is addressed. 13 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: In my wrath I will unleash

10/11/2014 · Merely listening to God-inspired words is not the point. The purpose of spending quality time in the Bible is obedience to what God says and the development of Christlikeness. The method Jesus encourages this is hearing God's Word. Romans 10:17, "So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ.

29/4/2010 · There are hundreds of books on preaching but not very many on listening to preaching. So when I come across one that looks helpful, I want to make others aware of it. Tim Challies has a brief review of Ken Ramey's new book, Expository Listening: A Handbook for Hearing and Doing God's Word , which looks to be one of those.

Listening to God's Word. by Eric Watkins. Lying somewhere in the home of each person reading this article is a Bible. Maybe more than one. The fact that nearly every Christian in the West has his own Bible is a rather recent privilege. For roughly the first fifteen hundred years of church history, Bibles were fairly scarce and protected.

14/12/2011 · Linking our hearing and doing – loving God and loving neighbor – means seeing them as a singular whole. They are inseparable. The only way we can come to know God fully is through the linking together of the hearing and the doing of the word. The doing of the word illuminates the hearing of the word.

James lines up with all of Scripture when he says that it is the doer of the word that will be blessed in what he does. In James 1:21, he talked about receiving "the word implanted, which is able to save your souls." In 1:22-27, he goes on to emphasize doing the word. In 1:22-24, he shows that hearing the word without doing it leads to ...

15/4/2013 · Hearing the Word is of utmost importance in view of the sinful human propensity to turn away from the truth (4:3-4). Paul warns Timothy (4:3), “For the time will come when they [those in the church is the implication] will not endure sound doctrine; but wanting to have their ears tickled, they will accumulate [lit., ‘heap up’] for themselves teachers in accordance to their own desires.”

people imagine. If we are decent preachers the Word seems so clear by the time our people hear it they might be inclined to think that we just found scriptural nuggets glittering on the ground. As difficult as study is, I at least know what I'm doing in that realm. I was taught well in the skills of exegesis, hermeneutics, and homiletics.

20/11/2013 · The Word of God has a reviving effect because it causes life to come from death, not only once and for all to those dead in their sins (Eph. 2:1) but to the believer in times of deep struggle with sin (Rom. 7). The Word of God has a “wising up” effect because it causes those who are unwise in themselves to be wise in Christ.
