8:29 – specifically, whether “whom he foreknew he predestined” indicates that God chose whom he would save based on their foreseen faith.

Semi-Pelagianism says that man cannot be saved apart from the grace of God, ... to cooperate with and assent to that grace of God before God will save him. That is to say, you can't be saved apart from grace, but it is left for man, ... We just read in Ephesians that God chose certain people before the foundation of the world (Eph. 1:3–5).

8/5/2013 · Some argue that if God chose us for salvation apart from anything that we do, it will lead people to say, “Then we can live as we please.” But our text shows that this is not so. 2. The doctrine of God's choosing us for salvation is one of His greatest blessings because it guarantees our becoming holy and blameless before Him.

1/3/1992 · God does not choose who will be in Christ and who will be saved. That lies ultimately in the power of man's autonomous will, which God does not rule. "Chose Us in Him". They say that the wording of verse 4 proves this interpretation: "God chose us in him." But this wording will not settle the issue.

4/2/2015 · William Tyndale was committed to the biblical teaching of the sovereign election of God. He believed God acted before time began, in eternal love, in choosing a people whom He would save. God set His heart upon a people, elected out of the mass of fallen humanity, to be His own possession.

19/10/2020 · The doctrine of predestination teaches that everyone who is saved was chosen by God before the foundation of the world (Eph. 1:4; 2 Thess. 2:13). People might conclude that no one can know for sure whether he is saved and will go to heaven. They might reason as follows: Only God's chosen ones will be saved. God's decree of election is ...

1/1/1995 · Since not all people are saved we must choose whether we believe (with the Arminians) that God's will to save all people is restrained by his commitment to human self-determination or whether we believe (with the Calvinists) that God's will to save all people is restrained by his commitment to the glorification of his sovereign grace (Ephesians 1:6,12,14; Romans 9:22-23).

20/7/2021 · Jeremiah – Chosen by God, Rejected by Men. Jeremiah lived and prophesied at the end of an age. For forty years he had to proclaim an unpalatable warning – ‘This world, this Kingdom, this comfortable system of life is coming to an end!’. From a human assessment, Jeremiah's ministry

The law of God is intended for our good, because if we strive to keep it, we will be blessed, but it is not the means by which we are saved...Christ is (Acts 4:12). The law shows us that we're sinners in need of a Savior, because we cannot possibly keep it...and that means we are in a bad state before God.

15/7/2013 · Paul's answer is that our salvation is secure because it does not depend on us, but rather on God's purpose according to election. As the sovereign of the universe, God always accomplishes what He purposes to do. He chooses some for salvation apart from anything that they do, and He rejects others apart from anything they do (9:11, 13).

Salvation and sanctification are two different ideas, yet tied to a single goal of God. That goal is to restore us to the spiritual image of Jesus Christ, an image of grace and truth (John 1:12-13). Mankind was created originally in God’s image (Genesis 1:26-27). We fell when sin entered into the world through Adam and Eve (Genesis 3; Romans ...

26/4/2021 · The Jews are God’s chosen people, according to Deuteronomy 7:6, but that does not automatically make all Jews saved. Jesus said, “I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6). That “no one” includes Jews and Gentiles.

God is willing to forgive a person of ANY sin, except the sin of not coming to God the Father through the cross of Jesus Christ. Jesus stated in John 14:6, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." There is no salvation apart from God our Savior...
