the car). Change seats so the learner is in the driver's seat and adjust the seat, mirror and steering wheel as demonstrated in that chapter. What are these pedals on the floor for? Look down at your feet - you will see three pedals. The one on the left is the clutch (in simple terms it basically transmits power from the engine to the wheels).

Get in the car and put on your seatbelt. Put the key in the ignition and turn all the way until the engine starts. Put the clutch pedal down (this the pedal on the left) Move the gear stick into first gear. Use your right foot to press down on the accelerator gently to increase the engine's revs very slightly.

In addition to the cost, this is the main reason why, although 5-speed manual transmissions are used in all front-wheel drive vehicles, generally only 4- speed automatic transmissions are used in these vehicles. In comparison to manual transmissions, the total costs (including the flywheel and the clutch, etc.) are considerably higher.

Driving a manual can be one of the most nerve-racking things, especially when you've got a car full of spectators and commentary to go along with it. But, it can be one of the most satisfying skills to learn, especially if you're wanting to get into more advanced driving techniques like tracking your vehicle, road racing and whatnot.
