Pioneer work in opening the medical profession to women : autobiographical sketches by Royal College of Physicians of London.

This book is unique, because it is the autobiography of one of the leaders of the movement by which women were admitted to the general medical profession. Indeed, we might say the leader, for Dr. Blackwell was the first woman admitted as a student to the general classes in medicine, the story

Elizabeth Blackwell, though born in England, was reared in the United States and was the first woman to receive a medical degree here, obtaining it from the Geneva Medical College, Geneva, New York, in 1849. A pioneer in opening the medical profession to women, she founded hospitals and medical schools for women in
