Hallaq New York: Columbia University Press, 2013. 272pp. ISBN: 978-0231162562 To describe this book as revisionist is to gravely understate its ambition, and it certainly deserves a far more substantive engagement than this short review can hope to provide.

Wael B. Hallaq boldly argues that the "Islamic state," judged by any standard definition of what the modern state represents, is both impossible and inherently self-contradictory. Comparing the legal, political, moral, and constitutional histories of premodern Islam and Euro-America, he finds the adoption and practice of the modern state to be highly problematic for modern Muslims.
