10/6/2012 · Have worked out that the pink wire is the washer motor, so that's not a problem. I think the white wire is the trigger for the wiper and one of the other two wires is the permanent power to the motor. When I put a meter on the wires to try and work out which one is live with ignition on, I get a connection between both the positive and negative of the battery for the (I think blue and black wire).
